Santa Fe County Rachel O'Connor

District Defender Julie Ball

Santa Fe County Adult Detention Center Mark Boschelli

1. Intensive Case Management for those leaving the Court System with BH Issues (FACT substitute)

- There are some barriers to introducing a forensic assertive community treatment team.

2. Navigators for BH clients who are going through the justice system (Linked to CONNECT, flexible funds for food, housing, transportation)

3. Housing Support

-A possibility, there are currently other wrap around services available but there is no housing available at this point.

4. Third Party Behavioral Health Assessments for Jail Inmates with BH Issues

- a program where an agency could do intake at the jail or virtually and follows through after release. Instead of having individuals have to seek the assessment after release. The likelihood of connecting someone with services is better if it is done during incarceration. Would be better to assign an agency than an individual provider because there may be greater flexibility to put the client into the caseload. The funding would be for paying for the intake assessment

5. Funds for Guardianship for High Utilizers

- Public Defender has had some issues getting ahold of guardians and not being notified when guardianship ends

-Does not seem like guardianship is being used as often as it was previously

6. Inter Disciplinary Team for high utilizers in the Court/Hospital/La Sala

-There are models for this type of project but the position is not currently founded, it would provide an individualized level of care.

7. Treatment to restorative competency at the jail
